West Virginia Chamber Releases 2026 Position Papers to Build a Stronger West Virginia

The West Virginia Chamber of Commerce released its 2026 Position Papers ahead of the Legislative Session, outlining high-impact policy priorities that represent the unified voice of the state's employers and focus on the goal of ensuring West Virginia wins the national race for talent and investment.

Building on years of growth, the West Virginia Chamber's 2026 Position Papers focus on lowering the cost of doing business, fixing the workforce pipeline and modernizing the state's legal and educational frameworks.

"Our Position Papers are the direct result of input from the state's job-providers. They are the people who power our economy and are ready to take West Virginia to the next level," Steve Roberts, President of the West Virginia Chamber of Commerce, said. "To compete in 2026, we must be agile. These papers outline solutions needed to advance a climate that makes West Virginia the best place in the country to build a business and raise a family."

Throughout the 60-day session, the Chamber's advocacy team will use these Position Papers as a framework for engagement with the West Virginia Legislature. These are the top-line issues we are urging lawmakers to prioritize. We stand ready to assist with these policy goals, as well as others that arise, during the session.

The Chamber's 2026 Position Papers include detailed analysis of the following policies:

Workforce & Education Pipeline

- Excellence in K-12 Education
- Improve Workforce Participation
- Need for Enhanced Childcare
- Tri-Share Legislation Summary

Economic Competitiveness & Tax Reform

- Corporate Net Income Tax Reduction
- Support Small Business and Tourism
- Reduce Unemployment Compensation Taxable Wage Base
- Support Economic Development and Energy

Legal Fairness & Quality of Life

- Fair Legal Landscape and Judiciary System
- Modernize Statute of Limitations for Contracts
- Enhance Health and Wellness
- Promote Quality of Life and Public Safety
