SBA Offers Disaster Relief to West Virginia Businesses, Private Nonprofits, and Residents Affected by Adverse Weather Low-interest disaster loans now available

WASHINGTON — In response to a Presidential disaster declaration issued Aug. 3, the U.S. Small Business Administration announced the availability of low interest disaster loans for West Virginia businesses, private nonprofits, and residents affected by severe storms, straight-line winds, tornadoes, flooding, landslides, and mudslides occurring July 21 – 22.

The declaration covers West Virginia primary counties of Lewis and Upshur, which are eligible for both physical damage loans and Economic Injury Disaster Loans from SBA. Small businesses and most private nonprofit organizations in the following adjacent counties are eligible to apply only for SBA EIDLs: West Virginia counties of Barbour, Braxton, Doddridge, Gilmer, Harrison, Randolph, and Webster.

Businesses and nonprofits are eligible to apply for business physical disaster loans and may borrow up to $2 million to repair or replace disaster-damaged or destroyed real estate, machinery and equipment, inventory, and other business assets.

Homeowners and renters are eligible to apply for home and personal property loans and may borrow up to $100,000 to replace or repair personal property, such as clothing, furniture, cars, and appliances. Homeowners may apply for up to $500,000 to replace or repair their primary residence.

Applicants may also be eligible for a loan increase of up to 20% of their physical damage, as verified by SBA, for mitigation purposes. Eligible mitigation improvements include strengthening structures to protect against high wind damage, upgrading to wind rated garage doors, and installing a safe room or storm shelter to help protect property and occupants from future damage.

The SBA's Economic Injury Disaster Loan program is available to eligible small businesses, small agricultural cooperatives, and private nonprofits — including faith-based organizations — impacted by financial losses directly related to this disaster. The SBA is unable to provide disaster loans to agricultural producers, farmers, or ranchers, except for aquaculture enterprises.

EIDLs are for working capital needs caused by the disaster and are available even if the business or private nonprofit did not suffer any physical damage. The loans may be used to pay fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable, and other bills which could not be paid due to the disaster.

Interest rates are as low as 4% for businesses, 3.625% for private nonprofits, and 2.875% for homeowners and renters, with terms up to 30 years. Interest does not begin to accrue, and payments are not due until 12 months from the date of the first loan disbursement. The SBA determines eligibility and sets loan amounts and terms based on each applicant's financial condition.

"SBA's Business Recovery Centers have consistently proven their value to business owners following a disaster," said Chris Stallings, Associate Administrator of the Office of Disaster Recovery and Resilience at SBA. "Business owners can visit these centers to meet face-to-face with specialists who will guide them through the disaster loan application process and connect them with resources to support their recovery."

Beginning Friday, Aug. 7, SBA customer service representatives are available at the Business Recovery Center in Upshur County to answer questions about SBA's disaster loan program, explain the application process, and help individuals complete their application. Walk-ins are welcome, and you can schedule an in-person appointment in advance at appointment.sba.gov.
